

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

Chart of the week: Turnover surged on the back of increased Local Participation

Source: DSE Website

The Domestic Equity market recorded a strong rebound in performance this week as both Turnover and Volume surged. The market registered a weekly Turnover of approximately TZS 15.08 billion against a Volume of 7.75 million shares, marking a significant improvement from the previous week.

This week unfolded on the back of heightened local investor participation, which drove liquidity across key banking counters such as CRDB and NMB, complemented by activity in cross-listed counters such as JHL and KCB. Despite a decline in foreign participation, the increased activity from local buyers ensured that overall turnover expanded.

Looking ahead, we expect the momentum to continue into next week, supported by activity in Industrial and Financial counters, which are likely to remain the key drivers of market liquidity.

- MKCB slumped 15.3% to close at TZS 1,990, the steepest decline of the week, extending its recent losing streak. MBP followed with a sharp 14.8% drop to TZS 820, weighed down by sustained selling pressure. NMB shed 3.8% to TZS 8,170, DSE Plc declined 5.16% to TZS 5,880, and NICOL slipped 2.7% to TZS 1,430.

2. Fixed Income

Primary Market

Upcoming 25-year Treasury bond auction scheduled for 24th September 2025, carrying a 13.75% coupon rate.

- Analyst's Take:
The 25-year bond with a lower 13.75% coupon compared to recent long-dated issuances (20-year at 14.0%, 25-year at 15.0% earlier) reflects the BoT's confidence in subdued inflationary pressures and long-term economic stability.

By offering a reduced coupon on the longest maturity, the central bank signals its intent to anchor borrowing costs and test investors' appetite for long tenors.

Given ample local liquidity and sustained appetite for long-dated securities, the auction is expected to attract solid demand and could result in oversubscription.

Secondary Market

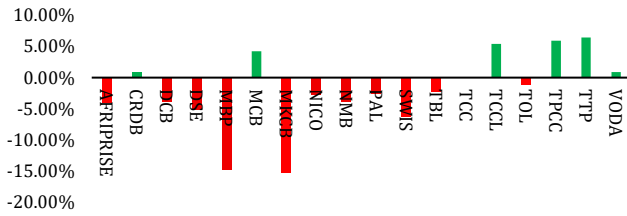

The secondary bond market recorded 83 deals with a turnover of approximately TZS 137.60 billion during the week.
